OFFER MORE TO THE FAMILIES YOU SERVE

As families’ funeral wishes continue to evolve, it is more important than ever to offer a variety of services that meet their needs. Many funeral homes now look to Certified Celebrants to provide unique and personalized options outside of the typical religious offerings. Consider training current staff, investing in someone within your community or attending yourself to accommodate this growing demand for customized services. You too can offer your families the celebratory services they imagine.

BECOME A CELEBRANT

Certified Celebrant Training offers individuals the opportunity to learn valuable skills to begin serving the community in a truly unique way. A Certified Celebrant works with funeral directors to provide funeral services, memorial services and tributes that are personalized to reflect the unique personality and lifestyle of the individual being honored. This intimate workshop offers funeral directors, local clergy, community professionals and other non-licensed funeral home staff the training needed to become a Certified Celebrant.
